The evaluation of the whole school was a predominant activity this year. The underlying theme was discovery.

Learning the benefits of getting along, knowing your strengths and weaknesses, and realizing ways of improvement are all ways of discovering yourself.

Competition is a challenge that everyone must meet sometime in his life.

Leaders and teachers are important to compete successfully. They are more experienced, and there is much to learn from them.

Perseverance, even when one's bones are tired and one doesn't feel that he can continue, is a necessary part of learning to compete.

Followers are also a factor. They show that competition not only benefits oneself but the school also.

Discovering this challenge of competition and meeting it is a worthwhile accomplishment to make.

One's strengths. As varied as a kaleidoscope's colors are the facets of Falls Church High School activities which evoke the exploration and discovery of talent.

Typing skills will prove to be a key to valuable job market opportunities.

To perform an efficient "shampoo and set" is a talent in which high school basics are successfully applied to career development.

The value of communications ability is emphasized in Distributive Education classes; this talent is vital for business prosperity.

Talents which would otherwise remain dormant are revealed by the extensive realm of extra-curricular activities. Our notorious band is an outlet for musical exploration; cheerleading, too, requires individual abilities of coordination and flexibility and their incorporation into a smiling unity.

Learning to live and work side by side with people of all types is often very difficult.

The school is made up of several different sections but they must all co-exist amicably in order to successfully survive.

Realizing this and giving it an extra effort, whether it is with your classmates, fellow athletes, or friends, is an important discovery.

Improvement for one's self is attained through participation in the school's activities.

Performing in front of a crowd to the best of one's ability helps develop courage and leadership.

Participating in vocational courses teaches special skills that range from hair styling to drafting.

Joining a club means learning new ideas, meeting people, and developing a sense of responsibility.

Each individual must discover the best methods to improve himself, for he knows best his goals.

Participating in the school's activities, whether curricular or extracurricular, is an important part of any student's education. It gives another perspective to the function of a school.

Joining the band teaches one discipline as well as responsibility to a group instead of to oneself.

Helping in the main office, answering students' questions and the telephone, lets one see what goes into running a big school and how important every single person is to the whole operation.

Joining in the school spirit gives one a sense of pride and belonging and helps the school as well as oneself.

Giving a speech in front of a class helps form better methods of communication; something that is needed in anything one does.

Practicing photography helps one improve a skill that is used almost everywhere.

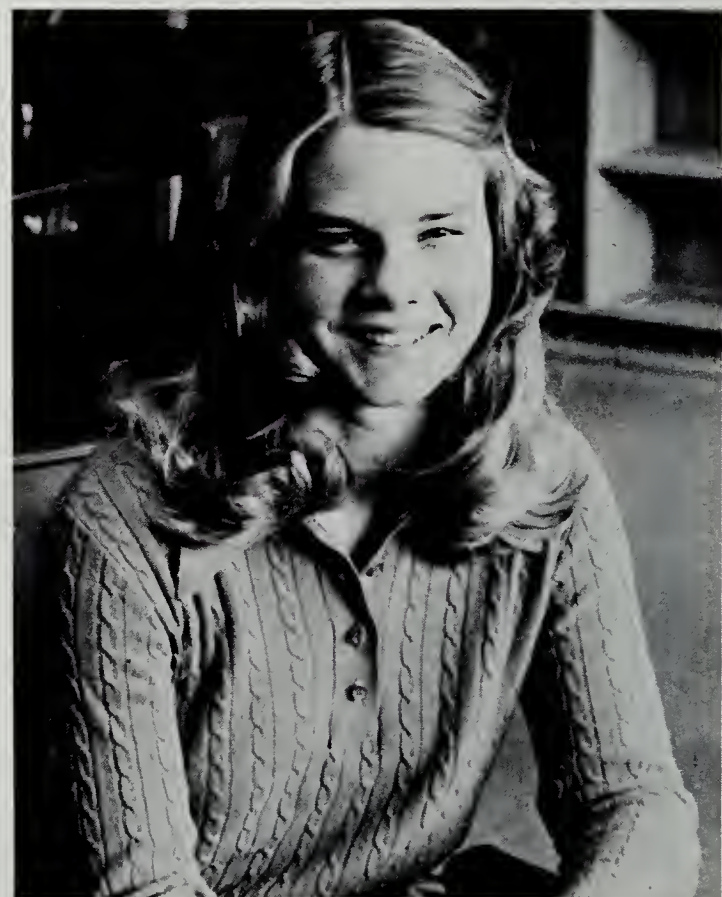

Participation benefits oneself as well as the school, but everyone must make his own discovery as to how to achieve this.

Limits exist to each individual's capacity for "involvement." Recognizing the approach of one's breaking point might save pennies otherwise allocated for Excedrin, and if not, the happiness of a silly giggle and the contentment of a short snooze will prove as effective a panacea. In other words, man cannot live by BAND alone!

FACULTY

Principal

Freshmen typically experience discovery upon entrance to high school, but the 1974-75 school year opened with an administrative plan new to upperclassmen, too. In an attempt to decentralize the functioning of Falls Church High School, an assistant principal was designated for each class. "A.P.'s" also were individually assigned supervision of various academic and vocational departments. Thus valuable managerial assistance was evenly distributed and school operated smoothly. Perhaps most important was the opportunity for individual pupil identity with administrators, vital to the unity of a diverse student body.

The Guidance Department, consisting of men and women concerned with the well being of all students, is an important and indispensable part of a functioning high school. All students make discoveries throughout their high school years and at some time turn to the Guidance Department to find their way.

Every student at Falls Church comes to Guidance for help with college selections, personal problems, job opportunities, and never, never, never ending schedule changes, changes, changes.

This year the Guidance Department changed its structure to enable two counselors to work with each class and remain with that class until graduation. This allowed the counselors to really get to know the students.

The expanded services provided by the Guidance Department included a new Human Relations Coordinator and Speech Therapist who aided students both in groups and as individuals with their problems.

Secretaries Accept Difficult Duties

Secretaries are among the important persons that work for our school. The Main Office Secretary takes care of the incoming and outgoing mail, receiving phone calls, taking messages for the administrators and giving students assistance. In the Guidance Office the secretary's duties include typing letters, keeping appointments in order for the day, and receiving telephone calls for the counselors.

The Attendance Secretary takes care of the student attendance for the school day, gives out passes for late arrivals, and maintains student's attendance records. The ADP Secretary keeps all types of records such as master schedules, lockers, attendance, and grades for the students. The Finance Officer keeps the school's money records in order.

Social Studies classes this year attempted to expose students to issues such as the state of the world economy; what a depression is really like; what effects the Middle East oil monopoly might have on our lives; the energy crisis; and the environment.

The department offered elective courses for juniors and seniors in psychology, sociology, and economics, World Civilization, World Geography. American Civilization and Humanities were classes also available to Social Studies students.

The Foreign Language program includes both modern and classical languages. A recent addition to the program was English as a second language, in which approximately 900 students were enrolled.

The priority of the curriculum was to give the students the increasing ability to understand the language, to speak it, to read it with care and enjoyment and to write correctly and creatively.

The Mathematics Department had two main concepts in its curricular offerings: practical arithmetic and academic mathematics.

The former consisted of two courses. General Mathematics was taught to 9th and 10th grades, and Consumer Mathematics interested the upperclassmen. The objectives of these courses were remedial work and proficiency in basic skills, and development of the ability to apply these skills to everyday living.

The latter consisted of Algebra 1 and 2, Geometry, Algebra 2-Trigonometry, Trigonometry-Functions, Functions and Analytic Geometry, and Calculus. These courses developed understanding of theory, manipulative skill, and necessary background for higher mathematics courses.

An elective course in Computer Science was also being taught to a limited group of students. The student was acquainted with computer language and its application.

With the discovery of many new faculty members, the Fine Arts Department was able to achieve higher goals than in previous years. The chorus worked toward more sophisticated performances and student involvement. The Bands prepared for their year-end trip to Virginia Beach but this time as Honor Band. The stage band was organized for the first time in several years and interest was generated in the small but excellent string program.

The Art Branch helped develop students' awareness of aesthetic values and provided them with the unique opportunity to meet their needs for self-expression. The Art Department believes it is in the arts that the adolescent seeks his own form of identity and expression.

The Science Department's objective this year was to serve the needs of the individual student. All classes were laboratory-oriented; that is, the activities were devised in order that students learned by "doing." The science teachers strived to prepare the graduates for the present and the future — whether they chose to immediately pursue a vocation or continue in formal education.

The Business Department continued to offer elective subjects to develop business understanding for everyday living, to develop personal-use skills, and to prepare students for entry level office jobs. Vocational training was given in Stenography, Clerk Typing, and data processing. Senior students in business could spend part of the day on the job in a cooperative work program. The stenographic laboratory with up-to-date office furniture and equipment was used for the first time this year.

The most popular subject in the Business Department was typing, which many students learned for personal use. For those who felt they could not spend a full year, a one-semester course was offered.

Physical Education Department Develops All Types of Skills

The main goal of this year's Physical Education Department was to help the students improve not only their skills but to build themselves into strong individuals. The Driver Education for the first time this year had Co-ed classrooms, and students taking Behind-the-Wheel were chosen by age, not grade. This year the Girls' Physical Education Department not only welcomed a lot of new incoming Freshmen but also acquired a new Department Chairman. Additional assets to the PE Department were the Gym Assistants who assisted the underclassmen and the Gym Teachers.

The Home Ec. Department was always the place to go this year if you needed anything from a punch bowl to needle and thread. Home Ec. was not only a place of good smells, mouth watering concoctions and cheerful seamstresses but it was a place that taught both girls and boys to live economically.

The students were prepared with skills such as sewing, cleaning, and cooking.

The Industrial Arts Department continued to make the courses available to all who wished to learn about our industrial society and acquire some of the skills involved in many of the occupations related to it.

Emphasis was placed on the career implications of the courses so that students could consider entering any of these vocations. Also, prevocational preparation for such areas as auto mechanics, electronics and drafting was offered.

Cafeteria Quenches Hunger Pangs

Our cafeteria has earned a reputation as the finest lunchroom in Fairfax County. Clean, bright, and cheerful (the bulletin displays were wonderful!) the cafeteria was the place to go for a delicious lunch. The menu was varied; in addition to the day's special lunch, a hamburger line and an a la carte line of soup, salad, sandwiches and desserts were maintained.

Perhaps most popular were our new milkshake machines which produced shakes unsurpassed in thick, creamy flavor.

The cafeteria staff had not forgotten early morning hunger pangs. A tasty breakfast — waffles, donuts, sometimes eggs and toast — was prepared daily for students, faculty, and administrators. That's concern for humankind — who else cared if your alarm clock failed?

"Harvey" Presented as Fall Play

The Drama Department's fall production this year was Harvey, a comedy about a pooka and the problems he caused because of his invisibility. The first show always has problems and this one was no exception. They included trying to find enough books for the bookcase, finding dahlias after a freeze, and getting the two doors to open at the right time. But, despite everything, the play was a success. The hard work paid off, and everyone celebrated at Michele's after it was all over.

"Tell me more, Mother," pleads Myrtle Mae.

MISS FALLS CHURCH HIGH SCHOOL: Michelle Barbaro.

The Keyettes presented the tenth annual "Miss Falls Church High School" pageant on October 15th, 1974 in the auditorium to the theme of "Days of Wine and Roses."

Thirty-six girls competed for this honor — having gone through a grueling week of interviews, talent competitions and endless practices. Each girl was expected to model both casual and evening clothes in addition to presenting a talent exhibition. All were judged upon her poise, personality and attitude. Five finalists were selected from ten semi-finalists creating "Miss F.C.H.S." and her court. Michele Barbaro was selected as "Miss Falls Church High School" for 1975 as well as being singled out for the Best Talent and Miss Congeniality awards.

1974-75 HOMECOMING QUEEN: Vicki Anthony.

A fierce football game against Woodson heralded the arrival of Homecoming, 1974. During the anxiously-awaited half-time, hours and hours of time and effort were rewarded as the Freshmen upset the traditionally-top-notch Seniors by receiving first-place in the Homecoming Float Competition. "Put the Squeeze on Woodson" captioned their huge loaf of Wonder Bread. A giant panda bear captured the first-place prize for the Keyette Club float, "Create Pandamonium." Highlighting half-time activities were the honoring of a beautiful Homecoming Court and the crowning of Queen Vicki Anthony.

Homecoming festivities concluded Saturday night as the Senior Class presented the 1974 Homecoming Dance, "Stairway to Heaven." Beneath the star-studded ceiling of a beautifully-decorated cafeteria, a large turn-out of couples danced to the music of "Cape Horn." "Homecoming 1974" was truly a weekend to remember.

School's Hidden Talent Highlighted at Variety Show

This year's Variety Show had an added attraction; 'Sonny', played by Scott Bono, and 'Cher', played by Sue Crocker, hosted the event. The entertainment included everything from the newest thing in cheerleading, The Jag-a-Lears, to an imitation of Ernestine Tomlin, to several folk guitarists.

The Variety Show was a success last year for the Freshmen so they decided to sponsor the event again this year as Sophomores. It took place in the late fall and was just what was needed to start the holiday season off right.

"May I help you?" snorts Ernestine, the operator.

Everyone finds it fun to come in grubbies

"Sadie Hawkins" is typically a successful time of year, and our 1974 Sadie Hawkins Dance proved no exception. The Dogpatch characters grubbed hard the week prior to the big dance; their reward — a gala marriage ceremony during Sadie Hawkins Day lunch where Marryin' Sam tried his technique!

This was only the beginning, for where else can you get married for 50 ¢? Over 250 couples took advantage of the bargain rate that evening and were united in holy matrimony. (Of course Separatin' Sue was just around the corner.)

A terrific evening added an $850.00 bulge to Senior Class treasury; most importantly, the smiles and good cheer of Sadie Hawkins Day highlighted our 1974-75 school year.

Audience Participates in "Night of January 16th"

This year the Drama Club's annual production was "The Night of January 16th" by Ayn Rand. The play's setting was a courtroom in New York City. The defendant, Karen Andre, is on trial for the murder of her former employer and one-time lover.

This interesting murder trial had the added aspect of audience participation. At the beginning of the play the foreman came forward and called 12 members from the audience to serve as the jury. After a parade of witnesses, for and against the defendant, the jury was excused to decide the verdict. At both performances, the jury found Karen Andre not guilty.

Larry Regan (Willis Anderson) congratulates Karen on her freedom.

"Pop's Malt Shop" Featured at 50's Dance

"The Fifties Dance" was a most successful event this year. Our industrious Sophomores established "Pop's Malt Shop" at the rockin'-round-the-clock-soc-hop, and Pop was besieged by pony-tailed, lipsticked girls and Vitalised guys. Contests for the best twisters, jitterbuggers, and costumed couple highlighted the gaiety. "Moon Tears", aided by original 50's l.p.'s, provided the beat for our stomping bobby socks, saddle shoes, and penny loafers. In the year 2000, the January, 1975 evening of 50's nostalgia will be remembered by photographs of ourselves posed on a sleek black Honda motorcycle.

This boy savors the flavor of real saul faod.

The 4th Annual Soul Dinner & Variety Show was sponsored by the FCHS Human Relations Council. The huge crowd enjoyed an excellent meal in the cafeteria which featured traditional "soul food". The Variety Show was presented in the auditorium, opening with the "Black National Anthem". Ms. Carol Martin from Channel 7 News presided as Emcee. Today's fashions and hairstyles were ably modeled by a number of our own black students. The Cole Harrison Dancers performed several routines. All in all it was a worthwhile mutual experience for those who were able to get one of the "sell-out" admissions.

Valentine's Day Celebrated At Sweetheart Dance

The year just wasn't complete without honoring St. Valentine. The Student Government presented, therefore, the 1975 Sweetheart Dance, "Traces of Love," on the crystal clear evening of February 8. St. Valentine would have been proud, indeed, to have danced with his sweetheart surrounded by millions and millions of red crepe streamers and paper hearts. What band other than "Shadow Blue" could have traced the love of our couples that evening? The 1975 Sweetheart Dance heralded the arrival of Valentine's spirit to Falls Church High School.

"The Spiral Staircase" Opens As Spring Production

"The Spiral Staircase" opened February 21 for a two performance run in the Little Theatre — to the relief of many. Overcoming minor setbacks such as finding a spiral staircase (the final one having four steps), reviving Liz from her fits of consumption and getting the doorknob to stay put. The "Drama Folk" went on to master the art of walking through walls, pouring "burgundy" everywhere but the glass and creating "air-conditioned" costumes for Caroline. The finishing touches of a doctor's bag named "Nurse" and mad scribbles of "Tee-Hee" stuck in odd corners were added. All said and done — the performance was an enjoyable experience even though Louise never did find time to cook Liz's broth.

The Varsity Football Team faired 2-8 in the extraordinarily tough Northern District during the "74" season. Although having a difficult time getting the offense and defense to have a good game on the same night, the "Jags" lost half their games by only one touchdown.

Coach Jim Dick emphasized aggressive execution and perhaps started a tradition by taking the team to camp for a week of two-a-day summer practices. Despite contributing a great deal of time and effort, the squad fell prey to numerous injuries and an inordinate share of bad breaks.

Jaguars Victorious Over Edison and Jefferson

The Jaguars shellshocked Edison for the first victory of the season, 26-21, with the deciding touchdown coming in the form of a Brian Craver to Mike Harris touchdown bomb with 1 second left in the first half. Jefferson fell in a 14-7 defensive struggle led by defensive stalwarts Rick Burkhart, Ron Caylor, and Randy Wade.

Aggressive J.V. Manages 4-4 Season

The Falls Church High School J.V. football team combined aggressiveness and desire to establish a 4-4 record. After losing their first two games, the J.V. Jags changed things around to win 4 of their last 6 games. Leading this change offensively were quarterbacks, Jim Simpson and Doug West; running-backs, Norman Burwick and Scott Stout; and offensive line stars, Wes Gilliam and Jim Timis. Defensive stalwarts in this drive were defensive end, Ted Staples, defensive tackle, Rick Oke; middle guard, Mark Askins; linebacker, Bucky Methfessel; and defensive back, Bill Epling.

The highlights of the season were a hundred yard interception return for a touchdown by Bill Epling and a team effort to come from behind for a victory over Stuart.

Baby Jags Boast Strong Defense

The Freshman Football Team achieved a 4-3 record this year while laying down a foundation for Falls Church's Football future. Offensively, John Buchan, Mark Fulford, and David Gatton led the Freshmen to four consecutive wins before dropping the last 3 games. The strongpoint of the team, however, was the defense. Anchored by tackles, Steve Swainkowski and Rocky Basham, Falls Church gave up only 58 points in seven games, 30 of which were in the Hammond game. Coach Al McCulloch, who has lost only 3 games during his tenure as Freshman Head Coach, and Jim Thorpe molded this year's freshman squad into a fine squad from which much is expected in the future.

Young Team Has Successful Season

The Varsity Hockey Team was once again so close yet so far from first place in the district as Robinson, with a record of 8-1, handed the girls their only defeat of the season, and for the second straight season forced the team to a second place district finish.

Coaching the Falls Church Varsity Hockey Team this year was Miss Ellyn Soefer.

The Junior Varsity Team was by far the youngest in the district. The girls learned the skills and strategy it took to play together as a team in just a few short weeks.

Under the capable coaching of Miss Sandra Reynolds the team had a successful season, placing fourth in Districts and giving the girls experience in playing the game.

"Girls, this is hockey, not golf!" screams Coach Reynolds.

Strong Individual Performances Key to Cross Country Season

The Cross Country Team record of 2-4 did not do justice to the efforts of the team. The four meets they lost were by a total of fourteen points. The team chalked up impressive wins over Wakefield and Stuart while losing heartbreakers to Woodson and Robinson.

The end of the dual meet season brought about the tournaments. This is where the individuals showed their stuff. In the District Tournaments, Larry Miller captured 1st place, Jeff Custer placed 9th, and Bill Fioramonti took 12th. Larry Miller and Jeff Custer went to the Regional Tournament where Miller ran 7th. He then went on to State Tournaments in Williamsburg and brought back 11th place.

Two girls, Carol Daniels and Mary Ellen Bennett, led the team this year in wins. Carol won first place in Districts and placed third in Regionals. Mary Ellen won six out of nine matches and participated in Districts and Regionals.

Mrs. Carlsen was very pleased with the girls' attitude and excitement that they held throughout the season. She also believes the team will win more matches next year due to the experience they gained this year.

Jaguars Suffer Disappointing Season

The 1974-75 Varsity basketball season was one of changes. Mr. Jack Spencer, a graduate of Catholic U. and former coach at Hayfield High School, came to F.C.H.S. as varsity coach this year. He is responsible for the new look in the boys' gym with the attractive Jaguar wall mural and the new name, "Jaguar Den."

The team this year had 2 wins, Wakefield and Thomas Jefferson, with one game left to play; losing 10 by 9 points or less. Graduating only two seniors, Mike Harris and Eric Keller, Mr. Spencer has already begun plans for next year with participation in a summer basketball league, and the new 1975-76 Wolftrap District of Stuart, Marshall, Oakton, Madison, Fairfax and Falls Church.

Falls Church was hampered by a low offensive output, averaging 32.8 points per game. The team was led by the scoring of Junior Nichols, and the team leading scorer, Anthony Hardy.

The girls' improvement on the Varsity Basketball Team was shown on the court as well as off. The close games and the concentrated effort put forth by the girls led to an exciting season. Youth Makes Swim Team Success Possible

The Swim Team, coached by Mrs. Sandy Treadway, and captained by Tim Cook, Dagny Davis, and Roxanne Brocato, had a highly successful season. This can be attributed to the many freshman and sophomore stars. They helped to lift their record to 4-2 and second in the district. This is much better than the 1-4 record of last year. One freshman, Mark LaRow, went undefeated in the dual meet season. The divers also improved greatly and contributed to the team's success.

The Swim Team placed 2nd in the District Relay Carnival and 7th in the Regional Relay Carnival. The team also sent 17 swimmers and divers to the Regional and State meets.

The team is looking forward to having a great season next year, as only two seniors will be lost to graduation.

Style, grace and flexibility are the important factors in gymnastics. These traits aren't born with us, as the F.C. Gymnastics team will tell you. The gymnasts spend hours of practice perfecting routines, learning new skills and learning how to become a team.

Coach Mary Camille Maddox remarked that this year was the youngest and most talented team F.C. has ever had. In coming years, Coach Maddox expects to have a team that will produce a higher level of competition and the team to beat in Districts.

The team won by devastating scores throughout the year, out scoring opponents 382-132. Coach Wilcox looked forward to a prosperous season, after a first year 8-12 record, with ten returning lettermen.

The season started out with a bang, with 47-6 and 48-2 victories over Annandale and Woodson respectively. Falls Church carried a 4-0 record into the second Falls Church Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

Jags Bring Home Three District Titles

The new year began with what was labled as "the match of the week" by area papers against W-L. W-L was also undefeated and looking toward the Great Falls District title. W-L fans really came out to see this one but to their surprise witnessed a 40-12 rout. Following routine wins over Oakton and T.C. Williams, came the "match of the year". Metro area No. 1 ranked Robinson met No. 2 ranked Falls Church in Jaguar country. Robinson proved victor, recording five falls, 37-19. Although unsatisfied with their showing, Falls Church faired better than any other team against Robinson in the last two years. The season ended on an up note with wins over Jefferson and arch-rival Stuart, 49-13.

Next came the district tournaments. The first day ended with Robinson in front by 22½ points. Falls Church then made a big second day comeback. District titles went to super sophomore Bob Passino (105 lbs.) team leader Steven Perroots (119 lbs.), his second, and third year man Rick Burkhart (185 lbs.). Robinson won districts by a slim 133.5 to 127. Final placings were Burt Claybourne (98 lbs.) fourth, Sam Smith (112 lbs.) fourth, Greg Stevens (126 lbs.) second, Jon DuBois (132 lbs.) third, Archie Payne (138 lbs.) third, Wes Gallahan (145 lbs.) fourth, Bob Benedict (155 lbs.) third, Randy Wade (167 lbs.) second, and Charlie Allen (Hwt.) third.

The only secret to success in wrestling is practice — and lots of it. The Junior Varsity Wrestlers demonstrated its worth this year by compiling an impressive record of seven victories against only two defeats and one tie. Among the outstanding team contributors were Mark Gardiner, Don Lau, and Mike Whitmore. The Baby Jags wound up with a 5-1 record showing promise for future wrestling fortunes.

Wrestling is a demanding sport that requires complete self-discipline and the confidence in knowing that the long sessions spent in practice are essential in building a successful wrestling program.

Indoor Track Successful Once Again

1974-75 INDOOR TRACK TEAM

The Indoor Track Team, competing in its second season, did a good job once more. Outstanding runners this year were Ron Caylor, Ted Staples, Jack Hurlock, Richard May, and Larry Miller. Two outstanding jumpers were Richard Meyer and Jim

Golf Team Looks Ahead

The Golf Team had a rather disappointing season. Hurt by the loss of third man, Jim Gunnells, the team struggled with only two good men. Mike Donovan and Jim Gudger, both country club players, provided the 1-2 punch for the Jags. Coach MacDaniel hopes for good teams in the future, as all three top men plus sophomore Dan O'Donnell will return next year.

New Coaches Bring Experience to Soccer Team

Under a new coaching staff the Falls Church High School soccer team looked forward to a winning season. The new coaches, Mr. Doug Burch and Mr. Frank Schoon, had, unlike our coaches in the past, prior experience in coaching and playing soccer. Many of the team members had played previously with all-star teams in the area. A strong J.V. squad promised a winning team for the future. Combining interest shown by the coaches and the players, with aggressiveness and personal initiative, the '75 soccer squad looked forward to a successful season.

Excellent Potential Seen in Track Teams

America has always been the one lagging in women's track events, but this sport is constantly growing and offering new opportunities to interested girls. At Falls Church High School, Coach Bellos felt she had a lot of good potential and that we would be well represented at the state meet.

The season started with 40-45 girls coming out for track. Track is a very individual sport, and each of these girls had to be willing to set her own goal for the season, and to put forth the effort to achieve it.

Maj. Wells was assisted coaching this year by a new assistant staff for track. These added coaches provided for more individualized instruction. Weight training was emphasized to increase endurance.

There was a great deal of potential in the team this year and they were ready to better their last year's record of only one loss. Track is a very mental, as well as physical sport, and the boys set the goal of being in the best of shape in both areas.

This runner huffs in trying to outdistance the girls.

"Hup-two-three . . . Whoops, we aren't doing jumping jacks."

Baseball Team Uses Potential Juniors

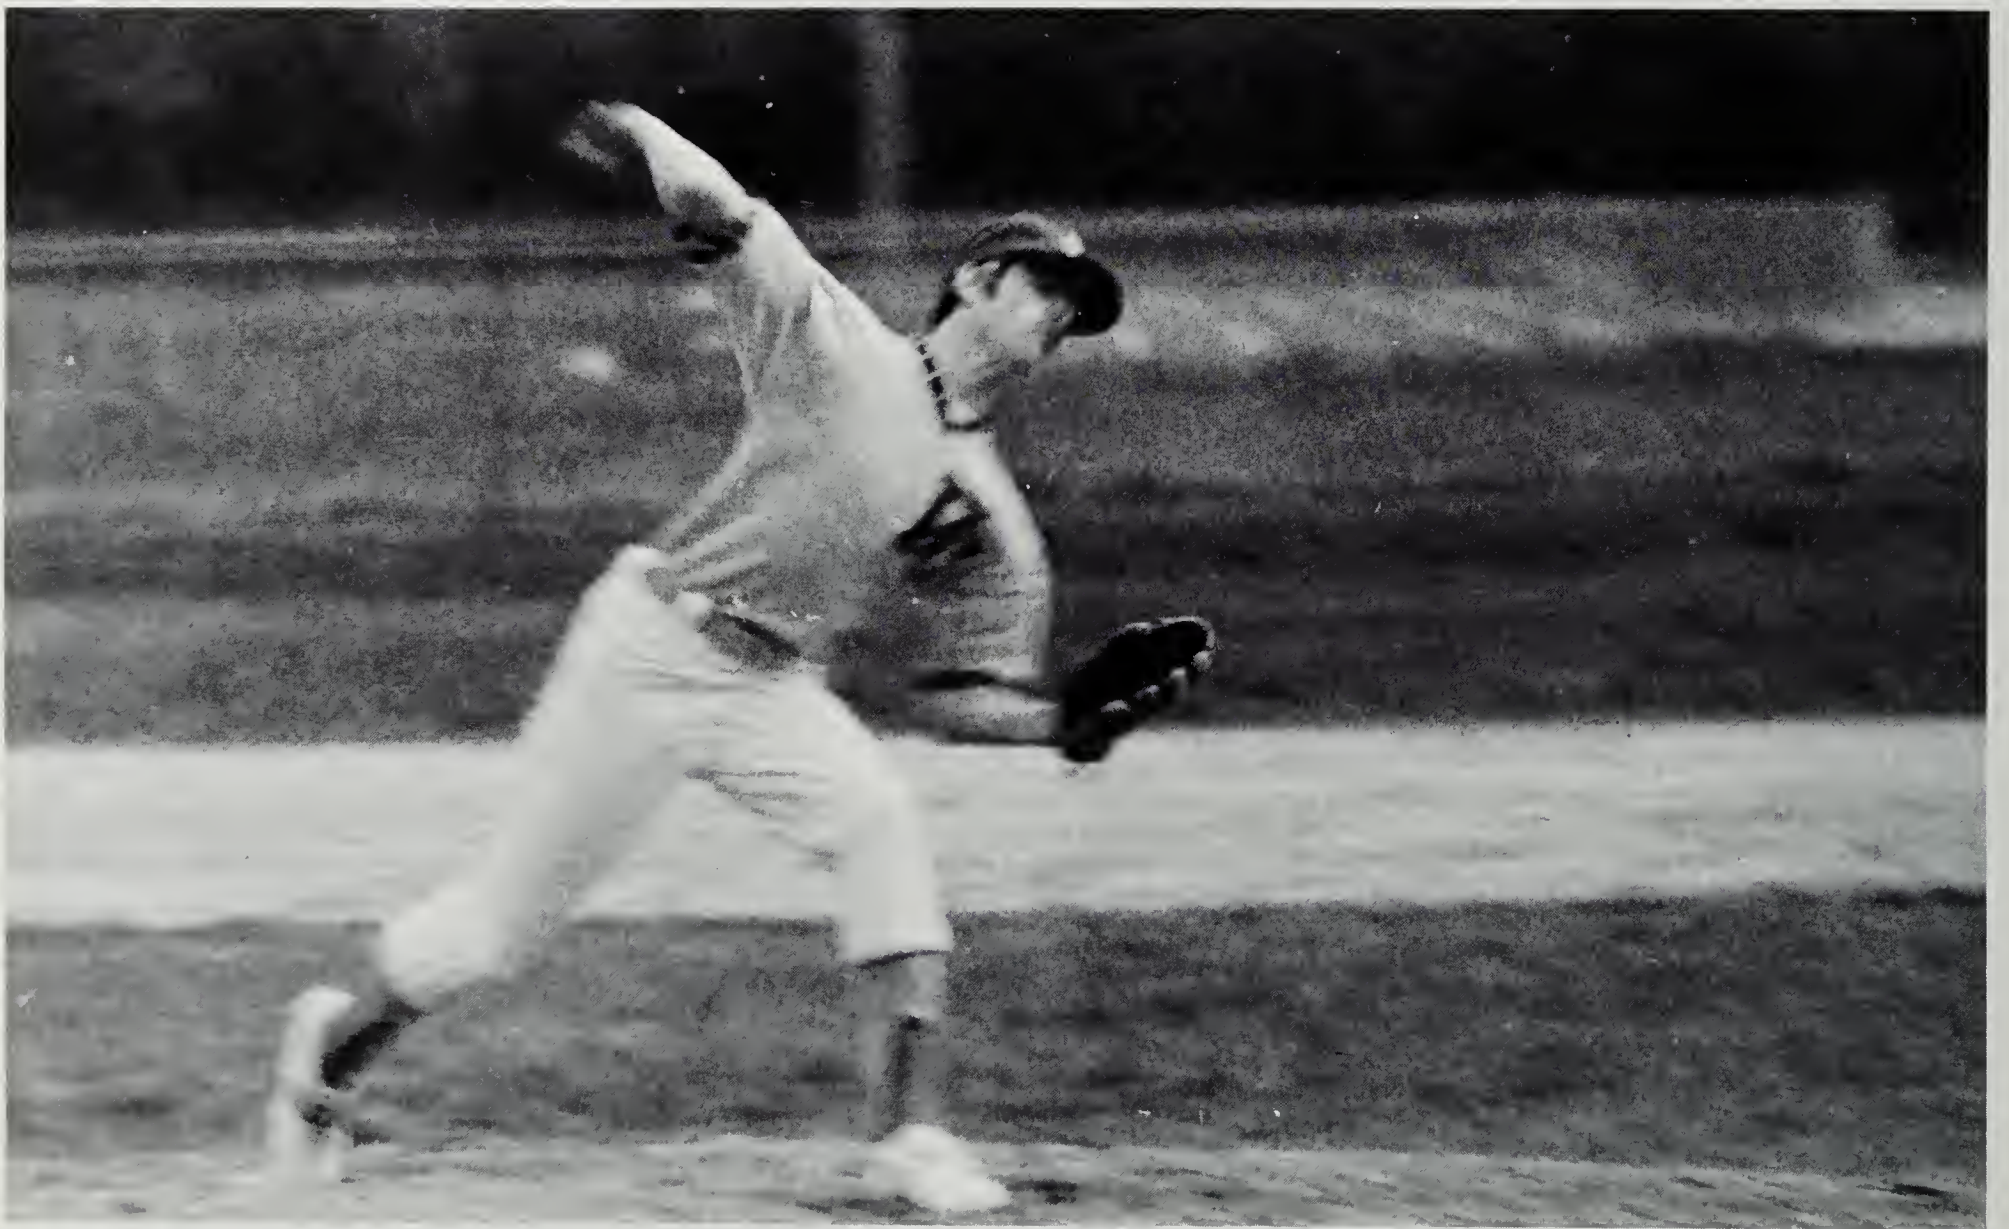

The Varsity Baseball team was comprised almost totally of juniors this year. Three of these were starters on varsity last year and two others saw some action as sophomores. The team had a good mixture of experienced players and less experienced, former J.V. players.

Helping Coach Al McCulloch with the varsity squad this year was Coach Marty Bonnett. Two other helpful additions were a pitching machine and a batting cage. The money for these was raised by the players by selling candles before the season began. The pitchers' arms were kept healthy because they threw inside before going out. The hitters got extra batting practice thanks to the additions.

The coaches are optimistic about next year's squad. The team will only lose a couple of seniors and the juniors will have gained experience.

"I know I'll catch up to that ball eventually!"

The Junior Varsity Baseball Team was the class of the league this year. The team got sleek new uniforms to replace the potato sack uniforms of past years.

After long, hard practices, led by Coach Bob Herb, the team took the field for the games. Led by returning sophomores and promising freshmen, the J.V. went through the tough season. The freshmen will get experience on the Frosh team this year.

FCHS's infield achieve another out.

A new coach, Mr. Spencer, gave an additional spark to the Tennis Team this year. He began a new training program — emphasizing running and basic skills to build strength and endurance. Many new, experienced players added their skills to give the team great potential in this season and for the future.

Pitchers Prove Strong Support for Softball Team

The girl's softball team had a long, tough season. The team, coached by Nancy Weisgerber, started practice at the beginning of March with more enthusiasm than ever before. The pitchers, who were the strength of the team, started the practice season the first week of March. The rest of the team joined them a week later. Practices went on for a full month before the first of three scrimmages. The season stretched to the end of May.

The end of the regular season brought about the first Northern Regional Tournament for girl's softball. This was held on the last three days of May. When tournament time rolled around, Coach Weisgerber figured the fine pitching staff would be the mainstay of the team.

Congressman Fischer stresses his point.

The Student Government exemplified the ultimate in government for the students, by the students, and of the students. The 1974-75 SG began its work last year, conducting orientation programs for pupils at Whittier and Luther Jackson Junior High Schools. Summer efforts led to a final examination exemption policy for excelling students, and nine-weeks testing schedules to alleviate "end of the term" tension. In addition to these new student benefits, the SG instituted a series of exchange programs with high schools of varying administrations.

Student involvement was further recruited as the former "SG room" became the "Student Union Room." Donations by our PTA of a record player and TV set increased Room 111's popularity.

The success of SG sponsored activities this year was utilized for school improvement. The Welcome Dance, and a reinstatement of the Christmas Dance, brought in funds which helped the Art Department purchase and install exhaust fans. Cash prizes and free Christmas Dance tickets were awarded to Canned Food Drive competitors, whose donations of over 3000 cans gave bright holidays to needy families.

The first student conducted assembly was held this year. A Christmas assembly featured the Jaguar Band and Chorus and Santa Claus, in celebration of the holiday season. Other programs included a "First Gear" rock band assembly and night concert; a talk with our area congressman, Dr. Joseph Fischer; and visits by the "Airmen of Note" and "Genesis", a Radford college music group. Indeed, the 1974-75 Student Government had as its purpose the serving of Falls Church High School students.

NJHS Proposes Cleaning Up Parking Lots

The National Junior Honor Society held their induction of new members in March. The membership dues brought in extra money and they discussed several activities in which the Society could use this money. They planned two projects to benefit the school, one of which was the difficult job of cleaning up of the parking lots.

Gary Plaag is enthusiastic about cleaning up the student parking lot.

The National Honor Society provided the school with a list of all the students who made the Honor Roll, plus a roster of straight A students, each quarter. They held their induction in the fall and the dues from new and old members went to pay for national membership, membership cards, and for seniors in the Society, a special diploma seal and a gold tassel on their graduation caps.

Their service project was to help the English as a Second Language students with English or any other subject in which they had difficulty.

The Spanish Honor Society held their induction in November and this brought in many new, enthusiastic members. Their annual Christmas dinner was a big success with many types of Spanish food being served including: arroz con pollo, flan, and, of course, tacos. They went to a Spanish restaurant in the spring and had a good time drinking coke from porones and watching the flamenco. They used the money they received from dues to give certificates to the Spanish V students and to buy medals for the excellent student in each level.

French Perfume Sales Bring In Needed Funds

The French Honor Society began the year by selling French perfumes. They made almost $500 on this project and used some of this money to produce their annual Christmas Tea for the faculty.

The hard work they put into their pride hall was rewarded by receiving one of the prizes given out during Pride Week.

Their induction took place in April and the new members proved to be hard workers.

The Society honored France and its language during a "French Week" where the French section of the foreign language hall was decorated.

At the end of the year the outstanding senior French student was awarded the French Honor Society Key.

Miniature Governments Set Up at Girls' and Boys' State

The teachers are the main ingredient in choosing the students to participate in Girls' and Boys' State. Teachers recommend the students on the basis of their involvements and academic achievements in the school. This program is sponsored by the American Legion every year. The students that are chosen for this honor go and listen to speakers talking about government systems and politics.

The It's Academic Team was rushed to meet the dateline in early September to appear on television. Very little time and inexperience led to the defeat of the Jaguars. Even though the team suffered a loss, they were supported by a rousing spirited crowd.

The National Merit Semi-Finalists gained this honor by receiving high scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. They took this test in the late fall of their junior year and found out their placing in the semi-finalists the following fall.

GIRLS' and BOYS' STATE REPRESENTATIVES: Reggie Gillis, David Blue, Cindy Weaver, John Ahearn, Brian Craver.

The Model United Nations changed their name to International Relations Club, but that was only one of their activities this year. In the fall they participated in FAIMUN, a county-wide competition. Later in the year they entered NAIMUN, a nation-wide competition that took place here in Washington D.C. The IR Club was given a number of countries that its members had to research. When it was time for a competition they had to present resolutions, concerning these countries, to the entire Model United Nations and then debate with the other countries to get them passed.

The fast thinking minds of the top math students were put to use on the Math Team. They found the excitement of competing with other students from other schools stimulating. Six different problems were given to only five students and they had five minutes to, individually, solve each problem.

Although the Debate Team wasn't as large as last year, it still progressed throughout the year. Team members worked hard by scrimmaging one another and researching their topics to the fullest. The District meets they were pitted in were difficult, but the spirit of the team always ran high.

The Forensics Team had an exciting season by having two of its team members place in Northern Virginia meets. The members worked very hard in preparing their prose, poetry and oratory selections for the meets.

Yearbook Staff Survives Monthly Deadline Panics

Memories provide fuel for the attainment of one's ambitions for the future. The Yearbook Staff worked long hours to produce the 1975 Jaguar, and sometimes, it seemed a thanklessly hard job. Selling ads for production funds, organizing photography schedules, and compiling write-ups for numerous diverse school activities were important ingredients. The most important, however, were scenes from student life.

Jaguar Journal Expresses Student Opinions

This year the Jaguar Journal made many changes. The Journal had a new staff with many new ideas. The staff had changed last year's format and style to achieve what any newspaper would hold ideal — to represent your subscribers. This year the Journal tried to be the students' voice by being an outlet for student opinions and student questions.

The staff had page editors; a system which channeled new ideas into the paper. A change in the size of the paper took place this year. The Journal had a regular newspaper size format. The Jaguar Journal also had a new democratic method of choosing its stories by giving all staff members a vote in what the Journal printed.

Literary Magazine Employs Local Talent

The Literary Magazine's publication was first set into motion in early spring. The usual problems of money were overcome, and the magazine was a success. Students were urged to submit their talents by way of stories, poems, and art work. Much hard work and many hours were put in the magazine, and it was well worth reading.

Civinettes Propose More Projects with Civitans

As this school year opened, the Civinettes accepted new applicants. On the agenda for the new recruits was a bake sale, a cleaning up of the student parking lot, and picking up trash by the baseball field. The Civinettes also purposed going tobaggoning with their brother club, the Civitans. Including the traditional bake sales and car washes, the girls continued to make money for charities by selling peanuts. In the spring, the Civinettes and Civitans got together to participate in their annual convention.

Civitan Work Hard to Improve School

The Civitans' activities were more plentiful this year than in previous years. At Christmas time the Civitans sold fruitcakes to raise money. During the Canned Food Drive the Civitans captured first place — a twenty-five dollar prize.

Prior to the big football game with arch-rival J.E.B. Stuart, the green and white guard posts lining Jaguar Trail were mysteriously painted pink, blue and white. The Civitans offered to paint them in their original color.

In addition to these projects, the Civitans painted the refreshment stand on the football field to complete their 1974-75 school year.

Key Club Serves School and Community

The Key Club continued its annual job of returning to school early Saturday mornings and cleaning up the playing field after a football game. It was a hard job but proved profitable at times. The club also did services for the community. The members arranged to move furniture for ACCA, Annandale Christian Community Action. New officers were elected in the spring and then took over.

Keyette Club Sponsors the Miss F.C.H.S. Pageant

This year's Keyettes were an industrious club. They baked for all the dances and collected for the March of Dimes.

The school-spirited Keyettes won first place in the float competition for Homecoming and sold Stuart voodoo dolls during Pride Week. They also won best decorated hall in club competition.

The Keyettes also visited the Oakton Nursing Home to brighten the day of the elderly. To add to the Keyette's good deeds, they sponsored a little orphan over in India. They made it a point to correspond with the child at least once a month.

One of the most difficult tasks the Keyettes undertook was the sponsoring of the Miss F.C.H.S. Pageant. With a lot of hard work and a few headaches, the Pageant was produced and rated a success. Through these activities, the Keyettes discovered the pleasure derived from helping others.

The Torch and Banner Society kept busy this year around the school and the community. The club adopted Mrs. Scott as their honorary "grandmother." They gave "Christmas Cheer" to a local nursing home by making Christmas cards and giving them to the residents.

School activities included cleaning the parking lot and washing some very chalky black boards. They also chose and honored a "Teacher of the Month" throughout the year. They gave two $200 scholarships to deserving Seniors. T.A.B.'s finished off the year by walking for the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon.

"Can anybody read these notes from the last meeting?"

The president reports on Tri-Hi-Y's success in selling pumpkins.

The members of Tri-Hi-Y demonstrated their enthusiasm and willingness to work by participating in several service projects. The year began with the induction of new members. The girls then made puppets for Fairfax Hospital, sold pumpkins and candy mints for the YMCA, and gave a Valentine's Day party for Headstart students. They even contributed to the ecology movement by collecting newspapers and bottles for recycling. All in all the Tri-Hi-Y Service Club kept their reputation for helpfulness and service to the school and community. Their Pride Week hall was an example of this.

The Ski Club had a productive year by increasing their membership and going on a number of trips. In mid-January, the Ski Club went up to Seven Springs, Pa. for the weekend. Though some of the members acquired bumps and bruises, the over all trip was enjoyable.

The Outing Club's excursions were to the wild and beautiful outdoors. The club held meetings to discuss field trips such as hiking in the Blue Ridge Mountains and camping for a weekend. On the whole, the club had good times getting close to nature.

A new club, the Prep Club, was formed this year. It was sponsored by the local IBM.

The French Club was again one of the most active clubs at Falls Church. During the winter months, the whole gang gathered in the Home Ec. rooms to try their hands at preparing traditional French cuisine. Many field trips to museums and restaurants helped broaden the experiences and minds of interested students.

The members of the Spanish Club got together right before the Christmas break to have a party. They also proposed going to a Spanish restaurant for dinner in mid-spring. Money was raised by traditional bake sales and car washes.

Latin Club Keeps "Dead" Language Very Much Alive

The Latin Club persistently demonstrated the viability of Latin. The club was represented in Homecoming festivities by a "slave" (Woodson football player) pulling a chariot. Enthusiastic students participated in ice-skating trips, and the Senior members of the club were honored at a lasagne party. End-of-year activities traditionally culminated in a Roman banquet; this year's banquet lived up to it's reputation as an "orgy".

This year's German Club was smaller than last year's, in size, but the members were as enthusiastic as ever. During the Christmas season the club sponsored the building of a gingerbread house. It also gave those students interested in Germany a chance to witness its cultures in action.

The Human Relations Council worked hard this past year to improve the relationship between the administration and the students. They also held discussion sessions to try and make the different groups of the school more responsive to one another.

The Work Experience Career Exploration Program proved to be a productive group by collecting old toys throughout various neighborhoods and repainting the chipped ones. In addition to the collection of toys, WECEP put on a party for a bunch of kids in a day care center.

The WECEP program is a two hour course in math and Distributive Education. The WECEP students work part time and learn about the different types of careers through the course.

The Distributive Education Club of America was formed to help students in the business world. DECA also aids the students in developing their leadership qualities in the professional fields.

The main fund raiser that DECA had was the selling of candy bars during the fall. The money raised from this project went to worthwhile causes.

VICA Aids Students

The Vocational Industrial Cooperative Association, known throughout the school and by the students as VICA, held many useful meetings during the year to promote money-making projects such as selling candy and washing cars. VICA helps prepare its students for the world of business from selling to managing.

The Industrial Cooperative Training program was an immense success in helping low-credit seniors. This course provided two credit-hours towards those needed for graduation. But this was not the only benefit, students in the program worked out-side the school as part of their credit. They held such jobs as: auto mechanics, waitresses, salesclerks, and nursing assistants.

The Future Business Leaders of America strived to develop qualities of leadership and responsibility in the business leaders of tomorrow. Among its fund-raising activities this year were an ornament bazaar to benefit Children's Hospital, and a trash bag sale to benefit the March of Dimes campaign. F.B.L.A. held social activities too, one of which was the annual Christmas Party held in December. F.B.L.A. hosted a tea to honor the school's secretarial staff during the National Secretaries' Week. The club stood ready to assist in other school-related activities such as hosting teas for our Advisory Council and the monthly Coordinators' meetings. All in all, F.B.L.A. members were enthusiastically involved people.

The Future Homemakers of America were kept busy through regular meetings with refreshments served afterwards. In addition to learning cooking skills the girls were instructed in the art of first-aid and housekeeping.

Pep Club Helps Decorate Cafeteria Lobby

The Pep Club performed many useful tasks in helping the Cheerleaders promote school spirit and pride.

An idea for saving money was to make their own uniforms to be worn on game days. Since the Cheerleaders' time was very limited, as they had to cheer at every game, the Pep Club decided to lend a hand in decorating the cafeteria lobby before each game. All in all the Pep Club proved an asset in promoting spirit.

"Na, you can't hide under the bleachers during the Pep Rally!"

Cheerleaders Help to Promote School Spirit

Carol and Pattie anxiously await a Jaguar touchdown.

The Cheerleading Squads of 1974-75 encountered many problems while trying to arouse student body spirit. They devoted many hours of hard work to try and encourage the students to support their school activities. This ended with very little response.

In raising money to help pay for uniforms and supplies, the girls sponsored car washes which were rated complete successes. Towards the end of March, Cheerleading try-outs were held with the graduating senior girls helping to establish a well-rounded squad for next year.

The Wrestlerettes also put up an innumerable amount of posters announcing the date, time, and place of every match.

GAA Sells Jewelry to Purchase Sports Equipment

The Girl's Athletic Association made money for girl's sports equipment and uniforms by having bake sales and selling erasable memo boards. Another item the girls sold was assorted jewelry. This was a huge success. The selling of the jewelry took place in the early part of the year, with the girls in fall sports participation with enthusiasm.

Another item that took place with GAA was the changing of its name from Girl's Athletic and Recreation Association back to the original GAA. This was done due to the confusion between GAA and GARA.

The nationally famous Falls Church High School Marching and Symphonic Bands began their fruitful season at the annual Orkney Springs band camp. On their return, the Marching Band prepared shows for football games, the Robinson Marching Spectacular and Philadelphia's "Parade of Champions", where they were awarded a silver plaque for an outstanding performance.

As the cold weather threatened, the Marching Band split into the Concert Band and the Symphonic Band until the spring. The concert Festival, held at Oakton High School, proved successful and exciting to both groups. The end of the year brought the most exciting of the Band's numerous trips. After a glorious win at the 1974 Virginia Beach Music Festival, the Marching and Symphonic Bands loaded the busses for a glamorous week as Honor Band in Virginia Beach.

Orchestra Under New Direction

The Orchestra, under the able direction of a new leader, climbed to new plateaus this year. Much individual perfection was achieved as well as performance maturity. What could be more heartwarming than fine, softly-played music by the Falls Church Orchestra? With climbing interest in string music, next year proves to yield a larger, finer group of serious musicians.

"Are you sure that's how it's supposed to sound?"

The orchestra members practice for their Christmas debut.

Class of '75 Glad to Announce Graduation

The Seniors finally arrived at their long awaited position as upperclassmen. They participated in many activities during the year of 1974-1975, some of which were very successful. They had to produce quite a few money making projects in order to raise the needed funds for graduation. The Homecoming Dance was very successful using the theme "Stairway to Heaven". Sadie Hawkins was perhaps the biggest profit making venture, pulling in over $800.

Senior Slump set in early and the float and pride hall produced only modest efforts.

Although many of the Senior privileges have been removed over the years Senior Skip Day was still held in the early spring.

The Seniors wanted to graduate at Wolf Trap Farm Park again this year, so efforts were made and a Saturday night date was set.

The Class of '75 proved to be an attribute to the school during the years they attended FCHS and now they are ready to discover what the future holds.

"Say it again, I dare ya!" threatens Carolyn Bradd.

"You can't believe everything you read, you know."

"I use Gulf No-Nox." says Tommy Barnett.

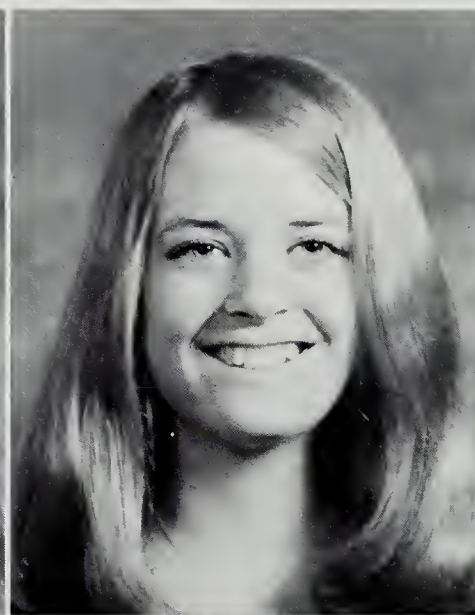

"Long live the Class of '75!" yells Gerard Ender.

"I sure wish I knew that good-looking guy."

"This is the most exciting class we've been in all day."

Jimmy glares at the unwelcomed photographer.

Juniors Say, "We'll Beat 'Em In The End"

First Row — Tina Weissenborn, Cabinet Officer; Roxane Brocato, Secretary;

The "Spirit of '76" really shone forth as the Junior class energetically produced many activities, including the all-important Prom. In order to make the dance a success, their fund-raising projects, such as bake sales, candy sales, stationery and scroll sales, and selling "We'll Beat 'Em in the End" buttons, helped immensely.

Once again, the Class of '76 proved to be unbeatable. For the third year in a row, the Juniors won Pride Week with an outstanding hall with the themes "Spook Stuart" and "Rattle Raiders". The many hours of work that went into this colorful spectacular proved to be worth it.

With the effort and cooperation of the students, the Juniors sold the most magazines, leading the way through the Magazine Drive. They placed first, netting more money than any other class.

Hard work went into the Homecoming float, a curling blue wave with the slogan "Wipe Out Woodson".

Much excitement occurred in November while ordering Class Rings, which were received in April.

The spirited teamwork of this winning class will prove it to be a superior Senior class next year.

"This sure doesn't taste like tomato soup!"

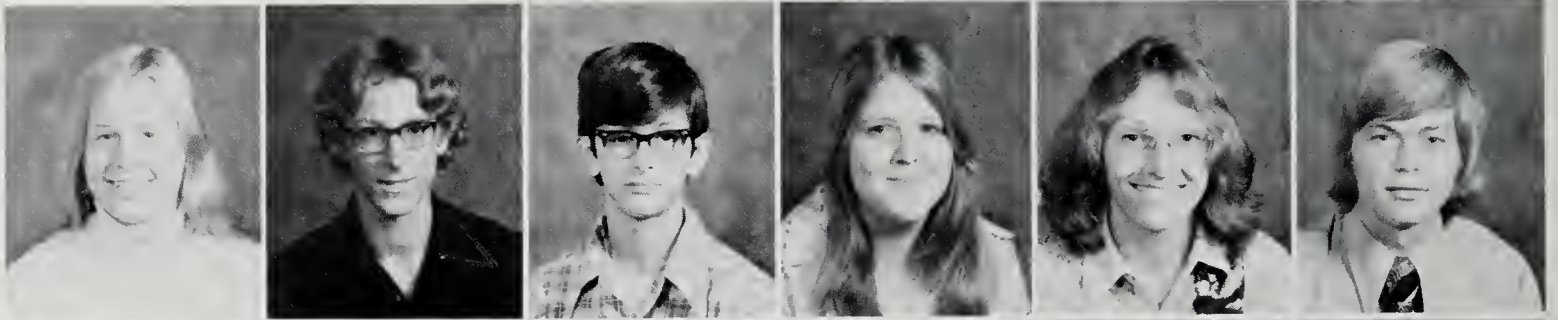

Donna Hanrahan thinks up her term paper during lunch.

"Did you hear the one about . . .?" giggles Carol Hayhurst.

Prom Proves Big Success for Juniors

"Ah-a!" cries Becky Brackett. "I knew the first Tarzan was Elmo Lincoln."

"According to these direction, I take two lefts and the Men's Room is on the right," says an impatient Jeff Richards.

"Who me? Would I do a thing like that?" innocently asks Eric.

Brenda and Patty offer thier goodies.

Sophomores Uphold Reputation of Enthusiasm

Seated — Archie Borgus, President; Standing — Bev Blaisdell, Vice-President; Jill Bassett, Cabinet Officer; Diane Haight, Secretary; Celeste Marrow, Treas.

The Class of '77 began their second year at Falls Church High School with the same enthusiasm, teamwork, and spirit that they are known for.

The Sophomores spent the first months of school raising money through bake sales, dues drives, and a highly successful variety show starring "Sonny" and "Cher".

They combined their enthusiasm and teamwork to produce the Homecoming float, "Buzz by Woodson", and a creative hall for Pride Week.

The entire class participated in the required speech course which helped them increase their self-confidence and taught them to use oral communication as a creative means of expression.

The Sophomore Class discovered that hard work is the key ingredient to success. They used this discovery in every effort they made and were rewarded with a successful, busy year.

"The title of Sonny's new album is 'Craak along with Bana'," exclaims Cher.

“... three to get ready, and four to GO!” yell the Jag-a-Lears.

‘Ma and Pa Kettle’ dress in their Sunday best for the dance.

Freshmen Biggest Class Yet

Jimmy Anthony, Vice-President; Robin Gemlepp, Treasurer; Alison Price, Cabinet Officer; Dorothy Wickert, Secretary; Jody Ruddcille, President.

The Class of '78's year began with an orientation before school started. Making discoveries each day, they slowly blended into the school's curriculum. To begin the year, they held elections, and with the tough competition present between the students a tie resulted for secretary.

Using their ingenuity and skills the Freshmen constructed a huge "Wonder Bread" which won the float competition. They also decorated their hall with slogans and streamers, and it ended up to be quite original.

Being the largest class at Falls Church, they had a very successful dues drive, and they always supported their school with a tremendous turn out at Pep Rallies, football, and basketball games.

As the year passed, the Freshmen made many discoveries which enabled them to become more involved, more responsible, and more aware of their school.

"How come none of the four-letter-words ore in here?"

"Who threw this book at me?"

"Let me put my eyelash back on before you take my picture!"

In Memoriam
Alan Shelor
1958-1974

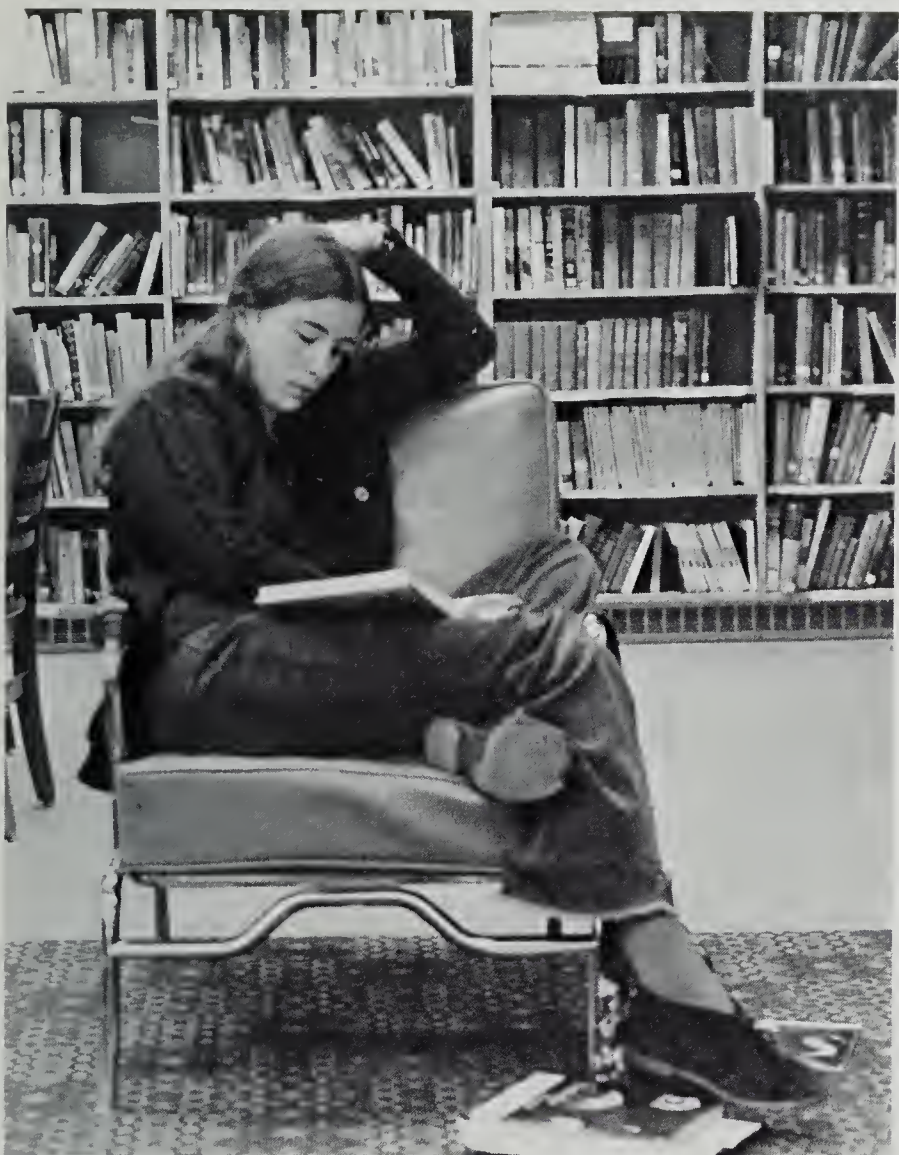

Many controversial issues occurred this year on the national and international level. The United States acquired a new president and vice-president, neither elected by the people.

The Energy Crisis returned in full force this winter. People had to conserve everything from gasoline to fertilizer. President Ford stressed the fact that America must become independent of Arab oil.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger kept up his hopping from one country to the next, spreading American goodwill, in the hopes of achieving world peace, the formula to which has never really been discovered but has constantly been searched for.

Discovering new ways of relaxation and enjoyment to break the monotony of the typical school day gives many members of Falls Church a new outlook on life. The Student Union room proves a quiet place to sit and do last minute homework or to just sit and think. Reading a good book in the library lets one explore new ideas. Having a great guitar player to listen to, or partners to dance with allows the students and faculty to come together in a relaxed atmosphere and discover each other's hidden talents.

Discovering relations with fellow students through various social and athletic gatherings or just getting together with friends is as important to the learning atmosphere of Falls Church as the academic routine. These activities help one acquire tolerance, leadership and the ability to become part of a team while still being an individual.

The metropolitan area in which we live is rather unique in that it allows people to "march to the beat of a different drummer". The opportunities are endless, students are given the chance to hear speakers, participate in drama or music, meet and talk with all types of people, or to just be different. These chances let one discover oneself and to develop this discovery.

Realizing the different facets of life and facing them head on, despite the many obstacles that might hold one back is something that everyone must do. The responsibilities that come with becoming an adult are great and sometimes seem too much to bear. Knowing that they can be resolved and can even aide in one's growth is an important . . .
